Lanex Corporation is a full-cycle software development company with a collection of skilled individuals operating around the globe. They provide high-quality digital solutions that deliver results. They provide agile teams based on the unique project requirements. At LANEX, many job opportunities may match your career interests.

I'm Rodein Opeña. Since starting my internship at Lanex Corporation in August 2023, I've taken on the role of a DevOps trainee. Over the past few months, I've delved into managing tags in AWS, gaining familiarity with its features and functions. While I've made progress in honing my DevOps skills, I recognize the importance of expanding my knowledge across other fields within the IT industry. My journey at Lanex Corporation has been a valuable learning experience, and I'm eager to continue growing and exploring new opportunities within the company.